● DIGITAL ENGAGEMENT

PROMOTE YOUR EXPERTISE

When you have a strong message to be heard, Digital Engagement provides that immediate and lasting promotional punch. You can tap into an executive-level audience that chooses to be part of the conversation, looks to be inspired by the solution knowledge you have, and be intrigued by subject matter experiences you've gained. While the development and production of high-quality digital assets can be a challenge due to limited marketing bandwidth and tools, Execs In The Know can be your marketing support and service extension to stay ahead of the curve. Digital engagement assets provide immediate and ongoing promotional value with assets you can use indefinitely.

Empowering Agents with Real-Time Insights: A Formula for Exceptional CX

With agents working from home, the viable option to tap into the talent of gig agents and outsourcers, and the capability of AI to augment contact centers to perform a higher level with empathy, there is an immense opportunity to transform your customer journey and interaction strategy. When you can put meaningful, real-time insights and behavioral guidance at your agents' fingertips you can transform the customer experience.

We invite you to join us on November 19th (2:00 PM ET) for a special webinar featuring Dr. Skyler Place, Chief Behavioral Science Officer at Cogito, and Kathy Juve, EVP Customer Experience, Technology, and Insights Group at Concentrix. During this webinar, Dr. Skyler and Kathy will share their unique perspectives on assembling the right customer support channel composition, with a focus on the strategic importance of doing live agent interactions well.

Register for this webinar to get insights on:

- Trends and technologies that are shaping the next generation of customer engagement and the strategic importance of live interactions
- How AI is augmenting contact center agents (including BPO's) with real-time feedback to perform at higher levels and drive more human connections
- The behaviors that impact customer experience and leverage new data for powerful insights on your customer journey
- Real-world case studies on organizations successfully leveraging AI to coach agents in real-time and deliver business results at scale
- And more...

(1) Opportunity for Corporate (Spring) 2024 Report

(1) Opportunity for Consumer (Fall) 2024 Report

Over the years, Execs In The Know (EITK) research has produced insights about the experiences, opinions, and perspectives of both consumers and corporate leaders, published on a bi-annual basis. The CX Leaders Trends & Insights report series focuses on consumer behavior and expectations using dynamic survey data, as well as corporate strategies and best practices, but will also infuse many of the views and opinions of experts within our community.

As a Report Partner, you get the benefit of having your name prominently displayed on the report. You will be provided the opportunity to preview the report and provide a written perspective for inclusion. Each report will be heavily marketed to our community through email campaigns, social media, and in KIA, EITK's private online community. Report Partners will receive branding in all these efforts, and the reports will live on our website as a key resource for our industry.

As a Report Partner, you will get one pass to Customer Response Summit, have the option to buy one additional pass at the $2,499 rate, be featured on stage as our Report Partner, and get recognized in the opening notes at the conference. In addition, copies of the report will be distributed to key community leaders throughout the year. The Role of Artificial Intelligence IN CUSTOMER SERVICE

February 2019

Execs In The Know

Foreword

from our Advisory Board

Over the last several years, we've watched the Artificial Intelligence (AI) conversation unfold within the EITK CX community. The conversation has been exciting for service leaders, as it holds promise to make the service experience more efficient, cost-effective, and holistic. At the same time, it has the potential to overwhelm, as many companies find themselves trapped between opportunity and taking action. Inundated by hype and information, it can be difficult to discern what to believe or know where to start.

At EITK, we strive to facilitate the transfer of knowledge and shared community expertise in a variety of ways so that leaders can learn from leaders. To more closely examine the future of AI in customer service, we assembled members of The Execs In The Know AI Committee—a group of customer service experience leaders willing to share their knowledge, experience, and perspective to make sense of a great deal of information and see a clear path forward for fellow leaders. Today's service leaders must consider internal and external business pain points, identify customer needs, and articulate a clear business objective that next-generation technologies can help solve or improve. In Customer Service, a competitive driver of growth, AI is unlocking unprecedented value and opportunity for leaders.

SIX WAYS TO BOOST EMPLOYEE ENGAGEMENT

Posted on August 20, 2020

Employee engagement is always critical, but perhaps now more than ever. In these unprecedented times, it is essential to stay connected with employees and remain tuned in to their mental and emotional needs.

With most organizations finding themselves with a remote workforce almost overnight, the need for connection is amplified and more challenging. Ensuring lines of communication are open and effective should be a top priority for CX organizations, especially with the uncertainty of returning to physical sites and with peak season rapidly approaching for many.

McKinsey & Company recently surveyed more than 800 US-based employees on a wide variety of topics related to employee experience and engagement. We will draw from that research in this article. According to McKinsey:

"Most companies did a solid job of addressing their employees' basic needs of safety, stability, and security during the first phase of the COVID-19 crisis. However, those needs are evolving, calling for a more sophisticated approach as organizations enter the next phase."

The good news is that many organizations have an opportunity to build upon the trust they gained in the early stages of the COVID-19 crisis. The challenge is figuring out how to expand beyond basic needs and safety.

We have all probably heard the phrase "happy employees = happy customers". We know it is not possible to make all employees happy 100% of the time, but the underlying concept is true. The more engaged and connected employees are the better they feel about their work and how they contribute to the overall mission. Ensuring your employees are well cared for and engaged is not only the right thing to do, but it also translates into a better customer experience downstream.

Six Best Practices to Elevate Employee Engagement

1. Give your employees a seat at the table with Voice of the Employee (VoE) programs.

Engaging with your employees starts with proactively measuring their experience with the company and genuinely asking for their insights and feedback. Many organizations have VoE programs, but a common mistake is not effectively closing the feedback loop, thus causing it to fall flat or worse, damage leadership credibility. To create a closed-loop process, do the following:

● VIRTUAL & LIVE ENGAGEMENT

LEAVE A LASTING IMPRESSION

Execs In The Know serves the needs of an amazing community of passionate and engaged Customer Experience professionals. Participate and you'll interact with Customer Experience leadership teams from some of the world's most well-regarded brands. Furthermore, Execs In The Know plays a very active role in managing introductions and identifying specific corporate needs that are an ideal match for your organization's offerings, so you won't just be in the room — you'll be in the conversation.

With our Execs In The Know virtual events, we stay true to what our CX leaders expect from us – an enriched and informative experience that generates actionable takeaways with opportunities for them to form relationships with their peers and subject matter experts. It's our learn, share, network, and engage model. With Execs In The Know, we offer virtual events with a personal touch.

VIRTUAL EXECUTIVE ROUNDTABLES

Limited to two Virtual Executive Roundtables per Business Partner in a calendar year. The two events cannot be consecutive.

Available throughout the year, a Virtual Executive Roundtable is a small invite-only gathering of 12-15 senior CX leaders. This 90-minute exclusive interactive session will provide an intimate setting for the sponsor to drive conversation and thought leadership on the state of CX today. A Virtual Executive Roundtable is ideal for partners looking to engage and build relationships with key decision makers in an exclusive VIP setting.

How it Works

- Execs In The Know will recruit key decision makers and drive attendance.
- Partners will be positioned as the thought leaders for the session.
- Partner-provided collateral and giveaways will be shipped by Exec In The Know (EITK) to attendees prior to the event.
- Event production, marketing, and fulfillment will be facilitated by EITK.

This Rapid-Fire Artificial Intelligence (AI) for CX Use Cases session speaks to the evolution of AI for customer experience (CX), taking AI from concept and conversation to reality. It is a pivotal time when action can be backed by real-world examples. This is an opportunity to showcase your AI prowess through real-world CX case studies that have resulted in tangible business value.

From attendees who are already down the path of using AI and looking to refine their approach to those taking the first steps to get started, this two-hour session “from conversation to reality” is taking place at a critical time, offering an unprecedented opportunity to reach CX decision-makers.

Participating Panelists will be required to document a use case for the session and will be allotted twenty (20) minutes to present the case study and answer direct questions from the Corporate Brand audience. The remaining time will be reserved for collectively addressing challenges and questions from the audience, along with the opening and closing of the event.

This lead-generation session will be recorded and edited to provide participating partners with a video resource of their segment to use in their marketing lead generation.

This session will be held virtually using Zoom Video Meeting to promote engagement and open discussion.

● VIRTUAL SUBJECT MATTER BRIEFINGS

Subject Matter Briefings offer an unparalleled opportunity to spend two hours with CX decision-makers, position your brand as expert-thought leaders, share best practices and unfiltered information with brands who are seeking it, and network with senior industry professionals. Our Subject Matter Briefings will focus on solving the most pressing customer experience challenges and opportunities.

A Subject Matter Briefing focuses on a specific CX topic and dives deep into the most relevant solution themes through the expertise and perspectives of our panel of subject matter experts. Corporate brands submit their most pressing challenges upon registration and plan to discuss them openly with other attendees and an expert panel of CX thought leaders who can help guide them through the complex challenges. A Subject Matter Briefing also includes a Corporate Brand ONLY session, allowing the attendees to openly collaborate on the information gained in the sessions.

Briefings will be held virtually using Zoom Video Meeting to promote engagement and open discussion.

The Customer Response Summit (CRS) Series is an event built by CX leaders for CX leaders. Twice a year global brands come together and rally around topics they care about most in a format that fosters relationship building, stimulates curiosity, amps up creative problem solving, and continues to build foundational CX leadership knowledge through sharing of best practices. As we continue to evolve CX with our leaders learning from leaders' approach, CRS has become known as the pinnacle event for knowledge-sharing with thought leadership and actionable takeaways coming from both our CX leader community and our innovative CX Business Partners.

Customer Response Summit is more than a conference – it is an intimate and laser-focused forum, providing outstanding opportunities to directly engage with some of the brightest minds in customer experience. The strength of this forum lies within the innovative design of informative sessions, interactive breakouts, specialized networking opportunities, and dynamic social engagement activities.
